

Completion ceremony held for Pyeongtaek Factory Demo Room expansion

2023.11.10

The Demo Room at our Pyeongtaek Factory was completed after about nine months of construction, and we held a completion ceremony on November 8th. Approximately 80 people, including our executives and construction workers, attended the ceremony, and various commemorative events were held, including congratulatory remarks by KOKUSAI ELECTRIC president Fumiyuki Kanai and our president Yong-sung Park.

The semiconductor device market surrounding our group is expanding rapidly, driven by demand for high-growth industries such as data centers, 5G, and AI. Semiconductor devices are transitioning to more complex three-dimensional structures, requiring the development of higher quality, higher performance, and more productive semiconductor manufacturing equipment.

With the completion of the Demo Room expansion, it will be possible to jointly develop next-generation semiconductor processes within close proximity to major domestic customers such as Samsung and SK hynix, which is expected to shorten the development period and realize high efficiency.
